

Contents

Foreword	ix
Introduction	1
1 The body and magic	3
1.1 Basic energy principles of magic and the body	5
1.2 Power on full throttle	7
1.3 The release of power after work	9
1.4 Holding the reins	10
1.5 Heightened sensitivity	11
1.6 Knowing your body	12
1.7 Symptoms and empathy	13
1.8 Handing over your symptoms	15
1.9 The effects of exploration	16
1.10 Body matters	18
1.11 Elements and contacts within the human body	21
1.12 Summary	22
2 Living magically: home and temple	25
2.1 Temple versus home	25
2.2 Protection	26
2.3 House deity	28
2.4 Transferring the transmission into the statue	31
2.5 Other deities	32
2.6 Spirits, ghosts, guardians, and ancestors	35
2.7 Balancing the home environment	35
2.8 Down times	38
2.9 Magic and relationships; bringing a new partner into the house . .	39
2.10 Summary	40
3 The magic of the land	41
3.1 Learning approaches and understanding how we operate	41
3.2 Researching your land	44
3.3 Working with beings	46
3.4 The tides of destruction	46
3.5 Natural tides of death and ritual patterns	49
3.6 Death and weather: talking to the storm	50

3.7	The land and accidents	52
3.8	Tides of weather; the heralding of storms	53
3.9	Summary	54
4	Working with land powers	57
4.1	Nurturing the land	57
4.2	Magical gardening	59
4.3	Tapping into hotspots	60
4.4	Short-term Construction	62
4.5	Longer-term construction: building a sacred grove	64
4.6	Starting work	67
4.7	The story of Medicine Wheel	70
4.8	Summary	72
5	Shrines on the land	73
5.1	Faery/Land spirit work	73
5.2	Deity shrines	78
5.3	Known deity shrines	79
5.4	Local deities and ancient powers	80
5.5	Befriending local spirits and ancestors, and having them live with you	82
5.6	Summary	85
6	Working with the magical elements	87
6.1	The powers and qualities of the elemental directions	89
6.2	East: the power of utterance and swords	90
6.3	Utterance: 'In the beginning was the Word'	90
6.4	South: the power of the sun and fire	92
6.5	Fires: sending power: curses and seething	92
6.6	Working with the Sun Temple	94
6.7	West: the power of genetics and water	94
6.8	Springs and fresh water	95
6.9	The Vessel	96
6.10	North: the power of earth and rock	96
6.11	The Underworld and Abyss	97
6.12	Working with earth, sand, and stone	98
6.13	Elemental combinations	99
6.14	The Four Temples	100
6.15	The vision of the Temple of the East	102
6.16	The vision of the Temple of the South (the Temple of the Sun) . . .	104
6.17	The vision of the Temple of the West (the Sea Temple)	107
6.18	The vision of the Temple of the North (the Temple of the Dark Goddess)	108
7	Divine power and its containers	111
7.1	Through the eyes of the wind	111
7.2	The magical path to the elemental forces	112
7.3	The primal force: divine power and its expressions	113
7.4	Qliphoths	113

7.5	Ritual and magical orbits	115
7.6	Pathways and parasites	117
7.7	Deities, the Qliphoth, and lots of wind	118
7.8	Working with the Qliphoths	120
7.9	Approaching the Qliphoth through the Inner Temple	122
8	The dead, the living, and the living dead	125
8.1	Working with the dead	125
8.2	The dead	126
8.3	The newly dead	127
8.4	Living with the dead	130
8.5	Longer-term hauntings	131
8.6	Working with the ancient dead, or Sleepers	132
8.7	Working with burials or bones	132
8.8	Working with bones	136
8.9	Your own death	138
8.10	Letting go	139
8.11	Knowing what death looks like	140
8.12	What to do magically when you know you are dying	141
9	Weaving power into form	145
9.1	Using weaving skills in magical defence	147
9.2	Pattern recycling	149
9.3	Working with weaver goddesses	150
9.4	Magical weaving	152
9.5	Weaving by utterance	153
9.6	Water	155
9.7	Summary	155
A	Nature visions	157
A.1	Breathing with the forest	157
A.2	Carrying the forest through time	159
A.3	Beaghmore: Secrets of the Stones	161
B	The Magical Understanding of Good and Evil	171
C	Understanding the Void and the Inner Worlds	177
C.1	What are the Inner Worlds?	177
C.2	The Void	178
C.3	Stilling the monkey mind: why?	179